

On the 27th of June students from APT and performing arts performed at the Feast and Fayre, Horndon on the Hill. It may have been a fallow year for the Glastonbury Festival but there was the same amount as talent on the stage this weekend with the Woodlands Students.

Students have been working with the complete Commedia dell'Arte company since April building an understanding of the famous art of comedy from the 17th century.

The students then created their own devised work that was performed to rapturous applause.

Well done to all the students who showed such fantastic resilience with the heat and made sure that their talents and hard work shone through.

We are very proud of what you achieved.
