

On 1st December, 30 Year 11 pupils had a fantastic afternoon at the Matilda Theatre in London for a Maths Inspiration show. Zoe Griffiths kicked things off with Numbers in the News, and pupils loved discovering how we can use our maths skills to avoid being misled by numbers in the media. Hugh Hunt, a Cambridge engineer and familiar face from TV, amazed everyone with Maths in a Spin, using boomerangs and spinning objects in fun, hands-on demonstrations. Colin Wright, mathematician and professional juggler, wowed pupils with Juggling: Patterns and Predictions, showing how maths underpins every trick — and pupils were buzzing trying to follow along! The host also shared how she uses statistical modelling in her job as a crowd-control consultant. Pupils left excited, laughing, and inspired by how creative and engaging maths can be.
